Water advisory

Due to recent, heavy rains, officials urge caution and patience at area waterways and parks.

Boat ramps, dock access and trailer parking areas have flooded at Wateree Recreation Area, leaving debris and mud.

Furthermore, water conditions may be hazardous to boaters on Wateree and other lakes or rivers.

Water is darkly stained with sediment, so spotting underwater structures or floating objects is difficult. Strong currents carry fallen trees, brush and other refuse on, or just below the surface.

These objects are dangerous to people and equipment, especially if struck at high speed.

20th Services Squadron officials recommend calling WRA at 432-7976 before driving there.

Baseball a big hit with Shaw’s youth

Photos by Master Sgt. Greg Scott

Dylan, 5-year-old son of Leslee and Staff Sgt. James Cox, hits for the Cardinals, one of 14 youth teams playing on base. The league doesn’t keep score in tee-ball or machine-pitch baseball, so everyone was a winner. Nearly 200 boys and girls take to the ball diamond on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Joshua, 5-year-old son of Sue and Lt. Col. Frank Ladson, makes a play like a big-leaguer for his tee-ball team, the Cardinals.

Sarah (right), 5-year-old daughter of Tracy and Tech. Sgt. Francis Myers, stands on the bag while the firstbaseman Katy-Lynn is ready to field a ball. Katy-Lynn is the 6-year-old daughter of Kathy and Staff Sgt. Bruce Snyder. The Yankees played the Cardinals Saturday for the season-opener at Shaw’s Youth Sports Complex. In addition to the leagues on base, Shaw youth also participate in baseball programs with the Sumter Recreation Department.
